Dictation companion sheet

Use this sheet with the Dictation tool. Your teacher plays a word, phrase, or verb form from the Vocab, Verbs, or Modismos tab — listen, then write exactly what you heard on a numbered line. Your teacher will check your lines against the words that were played.

The tool has three tabs. The Vocab tab plays words from the 1,000-word vocabulary list — nouns with their articles, verbs, and other everyday words. The Verbs tab plays verb forms: listen for the tense as well as the verb, because the same verb can sound almost the same in two tenses. The Modismos tab plays whole idioms — write the full phrase, not just one word. This sheet gives you room for a full round on each tab, plus sorting and speaking practice to do after you listen.

Name: _____ Date: _____

Dictation is listening practice: the ear has to catch the word before the hand can write it. Work one set at a time. Listen to the whole word first, repeat it silently, then write. If you miss one, leave it blank and catch the next — you can return to it in the retry round.

How a round works: your teacher plays each word twice, with a short pause between words. Do not start writing on the first sound — hear the whole word, then write. Spelling counts, including accents: hablo and habló are two different words, and the accent is the only thing that tells them apart.

D. Sort what you heard

Look back at the words you wrote. Sort ten of them into the table: nouns, verbs, and everything else.

Nouns	Verbs	Other

E. Listen for the accent

Some Spanish words differ by one accent — and the accent changes the stress, the meaning, and the tense. Your teacher plays one word from each pair below. Write the word you heard on the line.

Tip: in each pair the first word is the present-tense yo form (I …) and the second is the preterite él/ella form (he/she …). The accent marks the stressed syllable — listen for it.

1. hablo (I speak) / habló (he/she spoke) — I heard: _____
2. canto (I sing) / cantó (he/she sang) — I heard: _____
3. bailo (I dance) / bailó (he/she danced) — I heard: _____
4. cocino (I cook) / cocinó (he/she cooked) — I heard: _____
5. miro (I look) / miró (he/she looked) — I heard: _____
6. trabajo (I work) / trabajó (he/she worked) — I heard: _____
7. estudio (I study) / estudió (he/she studied) — I heard: _____
8. como (I eat) / comió (he/she ate) — I heard: _____
9. bebo (I drink) / bebió (he/she drank) — I heard: _____
10. aprendo (I learn) / aprendió (he/she learned) — I heard: _____

F. Sort by word family

Write each infinitive under its family: -ar, -er, or -ir. The ending tells you which present-tense endings the verb takes.

Word bank: vivir, comer, hablar, escribir, cantar, beber, bailar, aprender, cocinar, correr, mirar, vender, subir, abrir, decidir.

-ar verbs	-er verbs	-ir verbs

G. Sort by meaning

Sort these twelve words from the vocabulary list into the table: food, animals, and places.

Word bank: el pan, la abeja, la escuela, la manzana, el perro, la casa, el queso, el gato, el hospital, la leche, el pájaro, la playa.

Food	Animals	Places

H. Say it back

Pick six words you wrote in sets A–C and read each one aloud, then write it once more from memory — no peeking. Saying a word aloud after writing it helps your ear remember how it is spelled.

I. Words to practice again
