Verb conjugation packet

Four sections — present, preterite, future, and irregulars — with tables and practice from the 113 verbs in the Verb Conjugation tool. Print this packet and work on paper.

Name: _____ Date: _____

Section 1: Present

The present tense is the tense you live in: what you do, what you like, what is happening right now. Regular verbs take endings by family: -ar verbs take -o, -as, -a, -amos, -an; -er verbs take -o, -es, -e, -emos, -en; -ir verbs take -o, -es, -e, -imos, -en. (These are the Latin-American forms, no vosotros, as in the Verb Conjugation tool.)

1A. Fill in the present tense tables

Complete each table. The given forms are a guide to the pattern.

hablar — to speak

Person	Form
yo	hablo
tú
él/ella	habla
nosotros
ellos

comer — to eat

Person	Form
yo
tú
él/ella	come
nosotros	comemos
ellos

vivir — to live

Person	Form
yo	vivo
tú
él/ella

Person	Form
nosotros
ellos	viven

1B. Present: write the form

Write the Spanish present form for each prompt.

1. to hug — present, yo: _____
2. to applaud — present, tú: _____
3. to move forward — present, él/ella: _____
4. to help — present, nosotros: _____
5. to kiss — present, ellos: _____
6. to box — present, yo: _____
7. to search — present, tú: _____
8. to walk — present, él/ella: _____

1C. Which family?

Write -ar, -er, or -ir for each infinitive. The ending tells you which present endings it takes.

1. cantar: _____
2. beber: _____
3. escribir: _____
4. bailar: _____
5. subir: _____
6. cocinar: _____
7. aprender: _____
8. vivir: _____
9. hablar: _____

Section 2: Preterite

The preterite is the tense for finished past actions: what you did yesterday, what happened last year, how the story ended. Regular endings: -ar verbs take -é, -aste, -ó, -amos, -aron; -er and -ir verbs take -í, -iste, -ió, -imos, -ieron. A few spelling changes protect pronunciation (buscar -> busqué), but the sound stays the same.

2A. Fill in the preterite table

Complete the preterite table for hablar. Notice how it differs from the present table.

hablar — to speak

Person	Form
yo
tú	hablaste
él/ella
nosotros	hablamos
ellos

2B. Preterite: write the form

Write the Spanish preterite form for each prompt. The last ones include the irregulars ser and tener — learn those as whole tables (see Section 4).

1. to speak — preterite, tú: _____
2. to speak — preterite, él/ella: _____
3. to eat — preterite, tú: _____
4. to eat — preterite, nosotros: _____
5. to live — preterite, yo: _____
6. to live — preterite, ellos: _____
7. to be — preterite, yo: _____
8. to have — preterite, él/ella: _____
9. to speak — preterite, nosotros: _____
10. to eat — preterite, yo: _____
11. to live — preterite, él/ella: _____
12. to have — preterite, ellos: _____

Section 3: Future

The future is the tense for what comes next: plans, promises, predictions. It is the easiest tense to learn: every regular verb takes the same endings on the infinitive — -é, -ás, -á, -emos, -éis, -án — and stem-changing verbs do not change their stems in the future at all.

3A. Future: write the form

Write the Spanish future form for each prompt.

1. to speak — future, nosotros: _____
2. to eat — future, yo: _____
3. to live — future, tú: _____
4. to speak — future, ellos: _____

5. to eat — future, él/ella: _____

6. to live — future, nosotros: _____

7. to speak — future, yo: _____

8. to eat — future, ellos: _____

9. to live — future, él/ella: _____

10. to speak — future, tú: _____

3B. Add the ending

Write the yo (I) future form of each infinitive. Just add -é to the infinitive.

1. abrazar -> yo future: _____

2. aplaudir -> yo future: _____

3. avanzar -> yo future: _____

4. ayudar -> yo future: _____

5. besar -> yo future: _____

6. boxear -> yo future: _____

Section 4: Irregulars

The verbs you use most are the least regular, and that is not bad luck: words people say every day wear down into irregular shapes in every language. Ser, estar, ir, tener, and hacer have to be learned as whole tables, not derived from rules. One shared form to know: ser and ir have the same preterite (fui, fuiste, fue, fuimos, fueron) — context tells you whether it means “was” or “went.”

4A. Irregular tables: fill the blanks

Complete each table. These five verbs are worth memorizing whole.

ser — present

Person	Form
yo	soy tú
él/ella	es
nosotros
ellos	son

ser — preterite

Person	Form
yo	fui

Person	Form
tú

tú	estuviste
él/ella
nosotros	estuvimos
ellos	estuvieron

ir — present

Person	Form
yo	voy
tú
él/ella	va
nosotros	vamos
ellos

ir — preterite

Person	Form
yo	fui
tú
él/ella	fue

Person	Form
nosotros	fuimos
ellos

tener — present

Person	Form
yo
tú	tienes
él/ella	tiene
nosotros
ellos	tienen

tener — preterite

Person	Form
yo
tú	tuviste
él/ella	tuvo
nosotros
ellos	tuvieron

tú	haces
él/ella
nosotros	hacemos
ellos

hacer — preterite

Person	Form
yo	hice
tú	hiciste
él/ella
nosotros	hicimos
ellos

4B. The nine future stems

Only nine verbs change their stem in the future. Write the yo future form of each (stem + -é).

Verb	Future stem	Yo future
tener	tendr-
poder	podr-
querer	querr-
saber	sabr-
poner	pondr-
salir	saldr-
venir	vendr-
decir	dir-
hacer	har-

4C. Irregular practice

Write the form. Each one comes from the tables above.

1. to be — present, él/ella: _____
2. to be — present, yo: _____
3. to go — present, tú: _____
4. to have — present, ellos: _____
5. to do / to make — preterite, yo: _____
6. to be — preterite, nosotros: _____

5. Review quiz

Mixed tenses, mixed verbs. Write the tense and the form for each prompt — the prompt already names the tense.

1. to speak — present, tú: _____
2. to eat — preterite, él/ella: _____
3. to live — future, yo: _____
4. to be — present, ellos: _____
5. to have — preterite, tú: _____
6. to speak — future, nosotros: _____
7. to eat — present, yo: _____
8. to be — preterite, él/ella: _____
9. to live — preterite, ellos: _____

10. to do / to make — future, tú: _____

6. Reflection

Answer in English or Spanish.

1. Which tense — present, preterite, or future — is hardest for you so far, and what trips you up?

2. Pick one verb and write three sentences with it: one in the present, one in the preterite, one in the future.

3. Which irregular verb will you memorize first, and what trick will you use to remember it?
